Abstract

Offspring of the Deep Review. We cite the Deep Review like [1] or [1]. The source repository is [2].

Equations

Numbered equations can be included by using `$$` delimiters with embedded LaTeX math.

Equations can be labeled with tags like this `{#eq:label}` and referenced in text using `@eq:label`.

$$y = mx + b \tag{1}$$

Equation 1 is the equation for a line in slope-intercept form.

Figures

Numbered figures can be included by using the format `!Caption text{#fig:label}`. The figures can be referenced in the text by using `@fig:label`.

Tables

Numbered tables can be included by using Markdown syntax to create the table and then adding a tag after the caption like this `{#tbl:label}`. The tables can be referenced in the text by using `@tbl:label`.

Table 1 shows the relative search interest of the terms “Sci-Hub” and “LibGen” the week of June 25, 2017.

Table 1: Google Trends Search interest for Sci-Hub and LibGen.

week	search_term	interest
2017-06-25	LibGen	47
2017-06-25	Sci-Hub	56
